As business affairs issues become more complex, the AICP is offering the opportunity to have questions and concerns about business affairs issues addressed in small gatherings throughout the course of the year.

The small group format offers an opportunity to meet and discuss any business affairs issues and questions in an informal setting, and allow for interaction and discussion with your peers. While there is no set agenda for these roundtables, topics covered may include client guidelines, cost consultant requirements, agency contracts, wrap up insurance, the legal initiative, foreign currency exchange, late payments, bidding guidelines, etc.
